THE NEW CLASS

❑ bespoke windows and doors
from Alu-tec UK Ltd

a new class of aluminium

Alu-tec Uk are manufacturers and suppliers of high quality, aluminium windows and doors. Every product is specifically designed to our customer's requirements and each product made by a skilled team of architectural fabricators.

The collection of windows and doors from Alu-tec offer a new class of product, propelling aluminium products into the limelight once again, to create a new and exciting modern look for the home.

aluminium, grown up

Our collection of windows and doors have been revisualised, moving away from the steel designs of old. With new technologies and systems in place, our styles have been updated to suit all property types, as well as incorporating current requirements such as thermal efficiency, high security and weather testing.

the finishing touch

The hardware choice for your new aluminium windows and doors is just as important as their style and colour. A brushed steel pull bar, for example, can be the thing that transforms your door into something more exclusive than just an entrance door. Our security cylinders turn your home into a safe and secure environment and our specially chosen bi-fold and sliding door hardware are easy to use and trouble free for years to come.
